His Excellency Aziz Mekouar, Ambassador of the His Majesty the King of Morocco to the United States of America, spoke to the National Strategy Forum on Monday, April 11 at a luncheon program at the Union League Club of Chicago.

Morocco is a stable country in the troubled North Africa and Middle East region.

With the recent regime changes in the Middle East/North Africa, the Ambassador's insight on these current events and the relationship of Morocco and other countries in the region to the U.S. will be illuminating.

The National Strategy Forum was honored to present this program in cooperation with the Chicago-Casablanca Sister Cities Committee, which is part of the Chicago Sister Cities International Program.

Luncheon, Speaker Program and Networking!

MAC and Red Carpet Concierge

The luncheon was presented at the Union League Club in Chicago and was very welcoming to the Moroccan/American culture. Their concerns were to bring more investors to the table.

Also, important to exchanges is encouraging Tourism between both countries.

Discussing Middle Eastern Concerns

The economy and its progress was an important topic worldwide. Demonstrations for change gains popularity for reform.

Question and answer time encouraged investors, political views and communication exchanges between US and Morocco.

The warm welcome combined with interesting conversation will hopefully lead into trade, encourage tourism and a department to provide legal assistance for the Moroccan community.
